26 Annexure

Background

India's real estate market has entered a new phase of growth, marked by robust demand-supply dynamics, deepening institutional participation and expanding Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT)/Infrastructure Investment Trust (InvIT) activity. REITs are accelerating institutionalization & democratization of real estate assets in India, supported by robust leasing activity, rising investor participation and favorable regulatory developments in recent years. Over the past 5-6 years, the REIT/InvIT ecosystem in India has demonstrated consistent expansion in terms of type of underlying assets, value of assets under management, geographical diversification, investor base etc.

The market now comprises of five office-focused REITs alongside a retail REIT and an industrial & warehousing focused InvIT, reflecting growing investor confidence and scalability of REIT/InvIT structures in India. At present, these seven listed REITs/InvIT have a market capitalization of over INR 2,100 billion, up from around INR 605 billion in the last five years, when only three REITs were listed on the equity markets. As of Q1 2026, existing portfolio across the listed REITs/InvIT touched over 195 million sq ft with an upcoming pipeline of ~37 million sq ft. Acquisition-led portfolio expansion, increasing participation of global capital, emergence of new formats like Small & Medium Real Estate Investment Trusts (SM-REITs) and regulatory oversight of fractional ownership models are providing a strong momentum to the REIT/InvIT activity in India. Additionally, retail investor participation driven by enhancements in transparency and governance has significantly improved in the last 5-6 years.

Looking ahead, the convergence of strong occupier demand & supply of institutional-grade real estate assets, greater involvement of institutional capital, regulatory push, rising adoption of tech-enabled platforms & notable uptick in retail participation are set to drive the next phase of India's real estate growth. REITs & InvITs are well positioned to play a prominent role in India's ongoing transition towards a more transparent, liquid and institutionalized real estate sector.

This report provides a comprehensive overview of India's REIT/InvIT landscape, analyzing portfolio-level trends at the granular level and highlights emerging shifts as well. More importantly, dedicated sections present a deeper dive into the REIT/InvIT market of top seven Indian cities – Bengaluru, Chennai, Delhi NCR, Hyderabad, Kolkata, Mumbai, & Pune, where most of the activity is currently concentrated.

Outlook

REITs & InvITs to accelerate institutionalization of Indian real estate

The next REIT/InvIT wave: Broader participation, strong pipelines & growing institutionalization

India's REIT/InvIT market is entering its next wave of growth, driven by strong institutional investor appetite as well as broader retail investor participation. While the current REIT/InvIT ecosystem remains largely office-centric, diversification into other segments including alternative assets will gain larger ground. Additionally, the growth is set to expand in emerging Tier II/III cities as well amidst ongoing improvements in infrastructure, rising occupier demand and growing economic activity. In the coming years, sustainability–led developments, digitalization and deepening retail investor participation through SM REITs will also continue to strengthen REIT/InvIT ecosystem in India.

Key emerging trends in REIT/InvIT market

1 REIT/InvIT penetration across office, industrial & warehousing and retail segments is set to rise, driven by a strong pipeline of institutional-grade assets and increasing market formalization

Recent updates in REITs/SM REITs regulations

Sno.	Regulation	Impact on REITs/InvITs
December 2025 SEBI Notification
1.	Reclassification of REITs in mutual fund equity allocations, from January 2026 onwards. This makes REITs eligible for inclusion in equity indices as well	• Increased fund inflows from retail investors through mutual funds • Wider investor participation and enhanced market depth • Robust and accessible investment ecosystem for investors
2.	Inclusion of qualified institutional buyers, family trusts and Reserve Bank of India (RBI)-registered non-banking finance companies as "strategic investors" who can invest in InvITs and REITs
3.	InvITs to remain under the hybrid mutual fund category
February 2026 RBI draft proposal
4.	The RBI proposed to permit commercial banks to extend finance to REITs, subject to appropriate safeguards. RBI also proposed to harmonize existing guidelines of lending to InvITs	• Reduction of financing cost for REITs likely to support portfolio expansion and enhance quality for existing assets
